1) Info area for the selected Project. This area will have a single piece of art that represents the project (e.g., a poster or other image) and several bits of more detailed information about the Project (director, writer, etc.).

2) Links to each section of assets. The links are listed by asset type. Each link will scroll the page to the corresponding section of assets.

3) Section header and a number indicating the number of assets within that group.

4) Thumbnail image of the asset. If no thumbnail image is available, there will be a default generic image used in its place.

5) Information about the specific asset (including name, file type, date posted, file size, ID).

6) Links to interact with this specific asset.

"Preview" will open a lightbox view to allow for viewing at a larger size.

"Add to Basket" will send the item to the Basket for management and

"Download Now" will allow the user to download the asset immediately.

7) If there are many assets, we can prevent slowing the page load down by loading a section at a time. In the even there are dozens of assets this will help increase page load time.
